in the preface to part i of this volume which appeared in 1966 we stated we had to leave the antihistaminics for another volume of unpredictable dimensions in 1924 eight pages inserted in a chapter on Mutterkorn by Arthur R. Cushing were considered enough in vol ii part ii pp 1319-1326 of the Handbuch now 922 pages did not suffice to cover all aspects of the subject the subject has been expanded in so many directions that the anti-histaminic part had to be excluded from the present volume possibly another thousand pages will be necessary to cover what remains of the subject this prediction was fulfilled and the subject of histamine has grown to such an extent that dealing with the antihistaminics only in part ii would be quite inadequate it is imperative to include the large number of recent findings on the subject of histamine namely the splitting of its pharmacologic receptors and the great variety of new contributions on its participation in physiopathologic phenomena metabolism and interaction with newly found mediators the 3rd edition features a separate chapter on asthma and extensively expanded sections on peripheral nerve injury anticoagulation and regional anesthesia diabetes mellitus and malignant hyperthermia
